| • This paper aims at developing writing culture among students by inculcating in them the skills required for writing about cultures.   |                 |   |  |             |  |  |  |
| • The idea is to train students in critical and reflective skills by giving them certain tasks wherein they analyze texts, from short pieces like Op-Eds on contemporary issues to highly theoretical writings. |                 |   |  |             |  |  |  |
| <ul> <li>The focus of the paper is on hands-on experience; students will be doing intensive exercises inreading and writing. It invites them to reflect on contemporary issues and debates.</li> </ul>     |                 |   |  |             |  |  |  |
